DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 7-19 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 09/06/05.

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I claims 1-6 in the reply filed on 09/06/05 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that searching Group II poses no serious burden. This is not found persuasive because the product can be made using different method steps, which would require further search. As previously stated, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as etching, lithography or chemical vapor deposition (CVD).

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear what structure Applicant is claiming with "the transmission lines comprise an open portion of the transmission line used for the self-sustaining center-anchor between the input portion and the output portion." How is the Open portion of the transmission line used by the self-sustaining center-anchor?

Claim 6 recites the limitation "the electrode anchors" in line 2 of the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Park et al. [US 6,960,971].

Claim 1, Park et al. discloses a self-sustaining center-anchor Mem switch comprising: transmission lines [32a, 32b] formed on a substrate [10] at a predetermined gap and having an input portion [32a] and an output portion [32b]; ground lines [40] formed at both sides of the transmission lines; a dielectric-moving plate [41b] formed over the substrate and including a switching unit [60] that electrically connects the transmission line during short-circuit operation; anchors [20] having a self-sustaining center-anchor formed on the center of the transmission lines to support the dielectric-moving plate to the substrate; and upper electrodes [60 acts as upper electrodes] located in an upper portion of the dielectric-moving plate and serving as a driving electrode to the ground line, wherein the switching unit is operated by a bending of the dielectric-moving plate generated by a voltage difference applied to the upper electrode and the ground line, and switches the transmission lines.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-5 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
